

annual report

2022/2023

CHAIR'S MESSAGE

It's hard to believe that it's been 20 years since we first walked into Greenwood College School with our daughter. From the moment we explored the school, we knew it was a special place — and the right place for her to learn and thrive for her middle school and high school years.

Two decades and two Bowman Greenwood grads later, the school has now celebrated its 20th Anniversary; it has grown in terms of its physical size and its reputation in the Ontario independent school community; and while many faces in the classrooms and hallways are different, one thing has stayed the same: the strength of the amazing Greenwood community.

Since it was founded, Greenwood students, parents/guardians, staff and past staff, alumni, friends and grandfriends have formed a wonderful network of support that has worked to build character and help prepare our students for life after Greenwood.

When you look around the school, you see the future — the future of education, the latest cutting-edge technology, aspiring CEOs, actors, scientists, lawyers and more. None of that would be possible without the community's support.

In addition to updates regarding Greenwood's financials and strategic priorities, we are pleased to highlight in this report a few people who contribute to the Greenwood community. Of course there are so many more who give of their time, talent and their financial support. We thank all of you for helping to make Greenwood the wonderful school that it is.

Thank you for your ongoing support.

Stephen Bowman
Board Chair

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Greenwood Community,

I am delighted to present the 2022–2023 Annual Giving Report for Greenwood College School.

Students at Greenwood continue to thrive, as does our community. Our mission and vision have carried us through some challenging years and last year was no exception. Our 2021–2026 strategic plan continues to guide us and keeps our focus sharp on what matters most to our students, past and present.

The results of our student engagement survey show us that Greenwood students feel supported and benefit from our focus on mental health and well-being, diversity, equity, and inclusion, experiential learning, and technology integration. The campus expansion is well underway with phase one of the demolition complete (RIP KFC, as the students say). While perhaps predictably the campus expansion is taking longer than we would like or anticipated, it is coming along and will be a welcome addition to our Greenwood community and student experience.

We have made clear strides towards the goals outlined in our 2021–26 strategic plan. You can read about these on the next pages. You will also hear about some of the generous Greenwood community members who give their time and financial support. I extend gratitude to all of our stakeholders for this ongoing support, and look forward to the continued growth and success of our school community.

It's difficult to sum up how much I respect this school. I have enjoyed immensely getting to know the Greenwood community and watching our students blossom. It has been a privilege and an honour to serve as Greenwood's third Principal.

Thank you,

STRATEGIC PLAN 2021–2026 UPDATES

Promoting Mental Health and Well-being:

We have established a clear vision and strategy for mental health and well-being, integrating it seamlessly into Greenwood's culture. Allocating resources, including two social workers and a nurse; supporting the well-being of our staff through understanding their needs and providing continuous professional development; and conducting regular assessments by our student support team enable us to adapt various aspects of the Greenwood experience to promote physical and mental well-being. Additionally, comprehensive curriculum and programs have been developed and continually updated to teach students valuable life skills and mental health literacy.

Creating a Diverse, Equitable, and Inclusive Community:

We have communicated a clear vision strategy for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) at Greenwood, laying the foundation for a more inclusive community. Teams and resources are in place to oversee DEI efforts, and tools such as Panorama, RIDES, Working Groups and student surveys measure progress. DEI principles are integrated into Greenwood's curriculum, programming, and practices, complemented by updated policies around Discrimination and Inclusion. Ongoing integration programs for students and staff promote inclusion and belonging, creating a welcoming environment for all.

Inspiring Discovery through Personalized Experiential Learning:

Our commitment to experiential learning is reflected in the expansion of co-ops, partnerships, service learning, fieldwork, outdoor education, entrepreneurial projects, and global excursions. Pilot programs exploring technology to support experiential opportunities are underway, providing students with diverse learning experiences. Experiential programming focused on environmental stewardship and Indigenous reconciliation is being developed and implemented across Greenwood. A personalized experiential roadmap is in development, empowering each student to shape their own educational journey.

Leading in Technology Integration:

We continue to monitor technological advancements to increase learning efficiency and effectiveness, exploring AI, extended reality, 3D printing, and other innovations. Experiential learning is further integrated into the classroom through extended reality, with a focus on virtual and augmented reality experiences.

Develop a Bold Masterplan to Re-Imagine the Campus of the Future:

Properties south of the school were purchased and phase 1 of the demolition is complete. Planning of the space continues to take place as we await additional permits from the City of Toronto.

THANK YOU FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, ADVANCEMENT AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Greenwood is a special place. From the moment I arrived in Fall 2023, I could sense that this was a caring and welcoming community. Over the last several months, I've come to realize what makes Greenwood so special is the people. It's a community of people who truly want to be here — from our students and staff to our alumni and parents and guardians.

Donors and volunteers are at the heart of Greenwood. Thank you for supporting Greenwood last year through your charitable donations and contributions of time. Without donors and volunteers, Greenwood would not be the special place it is today. I hope you enjoy reading about the impact your support has had on our community over the past year.

I'm excited for the opportunity to write Greenwood's next chapter with you. Together, we will venture further and ensure Greenwood continues to seize every opportunity to secure its future so that we can continue to prepare our students to make a positive difference in the world.

Thanks for everything you do to support Greenwood.

With thanks,

SHARING TIME AND A LOVE OF READING: ANN-MARIE HIBBERT

It's the smile on her Reading Buddy's face that motivates Ann-Marie Hibbert each Wednesday morning.

"Today she ran up to me and gave me a big hug, so excited to see me," Ms. Hibbert said. "I can see the joy that the program brings to her."

Ms. Hibbert began volunteering with Greenwood's Reading Buddies program in September 2023. Each week, Ms. Hibbert walks with the Grade 7s and 8s from Greenwood to nearby Davisville Public School to read with students in kindergarten.

"I really look forward to it," she said. "Some mornings, it's dark or rainy or freezing cold. But it's great to chat with the Greenwood students on the way over and as soon as we arrive, it's so worth it. It's sometimes difficult to gather everyone up to leave at the end of the program; they are so engaged in the book they are reading with their buddy."

Ms. Hibbert has volunteered through school programs since her son Caleb '24 was in kindergarten. When Caleb started at Greenwood in his Grade 7 year, she knew she wanted to get involved in the Service Learning Program.

"I started out making sandwiches for the Youth Without Shelter program," Ms. Hibbert recalled. "I didn't grow up with much. As I prepared the food each week, I'd think about the person who would receive it and what that would mean to them. We are so blessed and privileged and it's important to give back to others."

Greenwood's service learning program builds character, community and relationships, she said. The school's emphasis on the whole student and character values was one of the factors that drew the family to Greenwood.

And, Ms. Hibbert added, it's vital to her that adults model the character values that Greenwood aims to instill in its students.

"It's important that we don't just say, 'It's important for you to give back'," she said. "We should all demonstrate it."

Caleb is now following in his mom's footsteps in giving back to the community; in December 2023, he organized a toy drive, collecting 287 new toys for the Toronto Cares Foundation.

"He told some family and friends, 'Please don't give me a present. Give a gift to the toy drive instead,'" Ms. Hibbert recalled proudly.

In addition to service learning, Ms. Hibbert volunteers as a Parent Ambassador. Prospective families can reach out to her with questions or to hear more about her Greenwood experience. Ms. Hibbert and her husband Kevin are also major financial donors to the school.

"We really believe in this school," she said. "And I get joy and gratification from giving back. It's hard to put into words the fulfilment I get through volunteering and through watching the students foster a love of giving back, too."

"It's important that we don't just say, 'It's important for you to give back'," she said. "We should all demonstrate it."

WHY I GIVE: MOTI JUNGREIS

When you hear the name Greenwood College School, you should know it's an amazing place, says Moti Jungreis.

"Both my kids have had amazing experiences," he said. "And I felt comfortable, too, the moment I walked in."

Mr. Jungreis recalled that when he was looking for schools for daughter Mia, he wanted to find a school that had a clear focus on both academics and emotional development.

"Greenwood really stood out as being dedicated to developing resiliency, community and character as well as focusing on academics," he said. "It was evident that they were looking at the whole person."

Mr. Jungreis said Mia, who graduated in 2022 and is now studying design in Milan, Italy, loved her time at Greenwood. That piqued the interest of her brother Yonatan, who then started Greenwood in Grade 9 and will graduate next year.

"From the arts to business to outdoor education trips, it's been such a positive experience," Mr. Jungreis said. "And that's why I give back to Greenwood."

Since 2016, Mr. Jungreis has pledged his support of Greenwood by making an annual leadership gift. He says giving to Greenwood was an easy decision.

"I wanted to help the school that was helping my children," said Mr. Jungreis, who has now generously donated more than $100,000 to Greenwood and is recognized as a member of the Wernham-West Society. "I want the school to have what it needs to continually improve."

His gifts go toward the Greenwood Fund, which supports the greatest needs of the school, as determined by the principal.

"My hope is that this helps Greenwood continue its momentum," Mr. Jungreis said. "And in 20 years, when my kids are long graduated and into their careers, this relatively young school will have further solidified its reputation as an incredible place that helps students grow. People will hear 'Greenwood' and know."

ALUMNI GIVING:

ALLIE HAWKEY

It's hard to believe it's been 20 years since Allie Hawkey first walked the halls of Greenwood.

Now a Wealth Associate and new mom, Allie says she remains proud to be part of the Greenwood community.

"My time at Greenwood was a formative experience," she said. "I learned to push myself and to try new things. I learned who I am at Greenwood and made special connections with so many people; I'm so grateful for my time at Greenwood."

It's why Allie continues to give back to Greenwood. She has served on Greenwood's Board of Directors since 2021. She has also been a member of the Greenwood Alumni Executive and on the Greenwood Foundation Board. She has also returned to speak to students many times and continues to give to Greenwood during the Annual Appeal.

"I stay involved because I feel passionate about the future generations of Greenwood students," she said. "I believe so firmly in the core mission of the school – to push students academically while also building character and moral values. I want to invest in that future — through both my time and my financial support."

By giving to her Class Fund, Allie supports the Greenwood College School Foundation, and its endowment fund. A percentage of the endowment fund is disbursed each year to support the student experience.

"As the endowment grows, it generates returns and more funds go back to support student needs. That's why I give to my Class Fund — it means I am contributing for years to come."

Allie says Greenwood's first 20 years clearly demonstrated the strength of its mission while also constantly adapting to meet the changing needs of students.

"The school is 20 years older, a little bit bigger and to me, 20 years better," she said. "The beauty of Greenwood is that each student's experience is unique and personal and I hope we can provide that same personalized experience for future Greenwood students."

"The evolution of the school has been so positive and I feel so lucky to have been a part of it."

WHY I GIVE: WILLIAM FARBSTEIN

For William Farbstein, Greenwood is like home.

"My first full-time teaching job was here at Greenwood," he said. "I feel like I grew up here."

Mr. Farbstein began his career in education as a classroom teacher at Greenwood 14 years ago. He's been an adviser and coach (volleyball, tennis, baseball, among other sports) and he now holds roles in both Admissions and as Department Head of Innovation and Technology. He continues to teach tech design classes and coach the defending champions senior boys slow-pitch team.

There's so much to love about Greenwood, he said.

"I really appreciate the hands-on approach to learning," he said. "In the Innovation Lab, we aren't just sitting at computers; we are up doing things, creating things and bringing projects to fruition."

The best part, he added, is seeing the pride on students' faces when they create something they are proud of in the lab — when an idea in their own mind is now something they are holding in their hands.

"It's such an honour to help in that process and to witness that moment," he said.

Mr. Farbstein says it's also been an honour to see Greenwood grow right along with him over the past 14 years.

"In my time here, I've had the opportunity to see the evolution of this place," he said. "I've seen the expansion of the school campus, the development of new programs and diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives, and now the recreation space development is underway."

A lot of that would not be possible without the generosity of Greenwood's donor community, he added.

Each year for more than a decade, Mr. Farbstein himself has participated in the Staff Giving Campaign of the Annual Appeal. Each year, Greenwood staff are invited to provide a one-time monetary gift or sign up for the monthly giving program. This year, more than 40 per cent of staff have already donated. When staff — who already give of their expertise and time — also support the school with a monetary gift, it really demonstrates their commitment, Mr. Farbstein said.

"I believe in Greenwood," he said. "So it's natural for me to participate in the staff giving program. It demonstrates my love for this school and the Greenwood community. I hope, too, it spurs others to give."

Greenwood is committed to protecting the privacy of all members of its community. When students register at Greenwood, parent information is shared within the school so that we can keep you informed through various publications, invite you to special events and involve you as volunteers and supporters.

All information is kept in a confidential database and secure files. Under no circumstances do we share, sell or rent our student, parent/guardian and/or donor information. Access to this information is limited within the school to authorized persons who are required to act in accordance with our privacy standards, for school purposes only.

For more information on our privacy policy, please contact Kelly Giannoccaro, Vice-Principal, Finance and Operations, or Jessica Wroblewski, Executive Director, Advancement and Community Engagement.
