

Annual Report 2025-2026

Greenwood

Message from the Chair

Dear Greenwood community,

One of the Greenwood events I enjoy most over the course of each year is the Celebration Day gathering in June. The Greenwood community celebrates the achievements of each and every one of our students, from the successful completion of a student's first year at the school to the culminating achievements of the Grade 12s and the accomplishments of everyone in between. It underscores once again the fact that, for Greenwood, education is a team sport. The entire community – students, operations staff, teachers and families – join together to help each student grow and achieve their personal best and their personal dreams.

During the 2025-2026 school year, we developed a new 10-year Strategic Plan for Greenwood. Over the years, I have acquired an increasing respect for the strategic planning process; it requires an organization to lift its gaze from the day-to-day, quarter-to-quarter and year-to-year, and think about where it wants to go and what it wants to be in the longer term. The starting point for the process is a review of the vision and the mission of the organization. In our case, as we approach our 25th anniversary, we found ourselves coming back to where Greenwood started. We reaffirmed our mission – To challenge, inspire and support each student to develop the knowledge, skills and character needed to lead a fulfilling life and reach their full potential, within our welcoming community. And we confirmed our vision of Greenwood as the definitive leader in personalized learning and transformative experiences that foster belonging, inspire curiosity, and build character, guiding students to achieve their personal best and thrive now and in the future.

Our mission and vision are inherently dynamic. They recognize the individuality of the student, and the multi-faceted nature of their own personal education and growth. Greenwood is not about dialing up one thing and dialing down others – it is about seeking out and supporting the potential and the aspirations of each of our 500 individual multi-faceted students.

Each year, we see this approach to personalized and holistic human growth play out in student achievements in academics, arts, sports, community service and beyond. And we see it play out in individual student experiences as they grow year by year into higher and broader levels of achievement, responsibility and leadership.

All of this is achieved through dedicated educators, very strong staff and leadership support, and the participation of our community of families and alumni.

I want to thank, in particular, the latter. Our parent/guardian volunteers are critically important to the school's success. You help to spread the word about Greenwood and you support our admissions program; you participate in Career Days and other school programs; you fundraise to support the school; and you provide us with insights that help us continue to grow and improve.

Our alumni, spread increasingly around the world, are also a key part of the Greenwood community. Your support in so many ways is of profound importance, and beyond your individual contributions of time or philanthropy, you are the embodiment of what the school is about.

Finally, I want to thank the community of donors who have provided financial support to the school. This support is sometimes dedicated to specific uses identified by the donor in consultation with the school. For example, some have committed to providing financial assistance for students who do not have the financial capacity to attend Greenwood or whose family have become unable to continue at Greenwood without some assistance. Others have supported the new Greenspace, which we are all excited to see completed at last, as well as arts, athletics or other more specific initiatives. And, some have chosen not to designate a specific use, but rather have made gifts with the intention that the funds be stewarded and invested to provide long-term endowed support to enable the school to respond to opportunities and challenges that will inevitably arise in our future. Thank you all for that support. We are most deeply grateful.

To the entire community, thank you for your contribution to our pursuit of Greenwood's mission and vision. Thank you for believing in Greenwood, and thank you for your encouragement and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen Bowman
Chair of the Board

Principal's Message

> "To our students, staff, families, alumni, donors and volunteers: thank you. Your dedication, partnership, and spirit are what make Greenwood truly special."

Dear Greenwood community,

It's my pleasure to provide you with the 2025-2026 Annual Report, an opportunity to share highlights of the school year, reflect on the achievements within our Venture Further Together 2021-2026 Strategic Plan, and celebrate Greenwood's donors and volunteers for their contributions to our school community.

This year marked the final year of the Venture Further Together strategic plan, and as we closed out that plan, we focused our efforts on strengthening what truly makes Greenwood, Greenwood: amazing experiential learning, character development in all we do, and community connection. We made great strides across all our strategic priority areas, and you can read more about these achievements in the following pages.

The 2025-2026 year saw the construction (and now completion!) of our Greenspace! It was amazing to watch the space take shape, and, earlier this fall, we were excited to celebrate the opening of this long-awaited addition to our campus. It has been quite a journey to bring this key part of our campus masterplan to fruition, and we are thrilled to see it ready for use. We look forward to seeing our students and staff play, gather and learn in our new space.

While we celebrate the successes of our previous strategic plan, much of the 2025-2026 school year was also dedicated to looking forward. We embarked on an extensive consultation process to develop our next strategic plan: A Different School of Thought. By engaging our students, staff, parents, alumni, and board members, we ensured that this new strategy is not just a document, but a reflection of our full community's values and ambitions. This collaborative journey has energized us, providing a clear and inspiring road map as we move into the next decade of Greenwood's story with a focus on Greenwood's leadership in personalized learning, transformational and student-driven experiences, developing dynamic staff, and cultivating a vibrant community.

To our students, staff, families, alumni, donors and volunteers: thank you. Your dedication, partnership, and spirit are what make Greenwood truly special. As we close this chapter and look toward the future, I am deeply grateful for your ongoing support and for everything you contribute to our community. The strength and warmth of the Greenwood community continues to inspire me each day.

With gratitude,

Heather Thomas
Principal, Head of School

Thomas's Top 10 2025-2026

10. Fall Outdoor Education

Our Outdoor Education trips challenged both students and staff, reinforcing their inherent strength and adaptability. In spectacular natural settings, students fostered connections, offered support, built durable skills, and engaged in character building and collaboration.

9. Moral Courage with Irshad Manji

In the fall of 2025, we worked with Irshad Manji, the CEO of Moral Courage, for a whole school day of learning. Staff, students, parents, board members and alumni were invited to hear how our different perspectives enrich our community and listening to diverse thoughts aligns with our vision of living in a pluralistic world.

8. How about those Blue Jays?

What a thrill watching the Blue Jays in their World Series run. The energy across the city was AMAZING. And that energy infiltrated our gym when Mr. Jennings and Mr. Farbstein led the school in an energetic sing-along of Take Me Out to the Ballgame at a school-wide assembly. A display of pride in our city and in our country – and a reminder that it's fun to root for the home team.

7. Experiential Learning Day

In the fall of 2025, we extended what was previously Arts Day to become a school-wide Experiential Learning Day. Grade 7 & 9 students participated in Arts workshops with professionals, many of whom are Greenwood alumni. Our Grade 8 & 10 students explored the city on course-connected field trips and learning programs. And, our Grade 11 & 12 students began exploring their future by visiting postsecondary institutions across southern Ontario.

6. The Greenspace!

I'll admit I'm disappointed that weather and other factors prevented the Greenspace from opening in the 2025-2026 academic year. As of September 2026, we are thrilled to welcome you to the new space and begin using it for our HPE classes and Athletics practices and as a community gathering space!

5. ART by Doug Brown

For the first time ever, Greenwood's senior play was a piece written by a Greenwood staff member, Doug Brown! ART is delightful farce centring around a suburban family whose perfectly ordinary afternoon unravels the moment there's an unexpected knock at the door. Congratulations to all involved. And a huge thank you to Doug for trusting your work to Greenwood.

Thomas's Top 10 2025-2026

4. Case Competitions

Business Case Competitions are so Greenwood! We once again saw record numbers of participants in these events, at both the Senior and Junior level. And a team of Grade 8 students won their way into the Senior Case Competition (from the Junior Case Competition). I love that we welcome alumni, parents and past parents to participate, making it a true community event. I often hear from alumni that taking part in these competitions at Greenwood set them up for future success.

3. Greenwood Community Golf Tournament

We had not hosted a community golf tournament in many, many years. And, in September 2025, it was time to bring back this fabulous event. Parents past and present, staff, alumni and friends of Greenwood joined us for a gorgeous day on the greens. The funds raised support our Athletics Programming.

Thomas's Top 10 2025-2026

2. Middle School Assemblies

Our Grade 7 and 8 students are such an important piece of Greenwood's fabric. This year we started Middle School Assemblies to highlight this community and the leadership opportunities for Grade 7 and 8 students at Greenwood. These assemblies were a lovely way to celebrate our middle schoolers!

1. Amazing Students

So, I began to think of the AMAZING Greenwood students and all the interesting, creative, intellectual, and leading edge things they've accomplished this year…And my list went from Thomas's Top 10 to Thomas's Top 500!

From starting new clubs like fishing by Owen S., to assembly addresses like Tessa C.'s on boredom, to our senior students hosting visiting students for a Robotics Competition and the whole Grade 7 class singing a song together at the first Greenwood Mic…I could go on and on. There's really nothing like a Greenwood student.

Strategic Plan 2021-2026

Looking back on 2025-2026

This year marked the final year of our Venture Further Together 2021-2026 Strategic Plan. We continued to make great strides and had notable achievements in all key priority areas.

Promoting Mental Health and Well-Being

In 2025-2026, our approach to well-being shifted based on up-to-date research from leading mental health experts. Our focus on skill development through productive struggle and embracing challenges helps students build capacity, competence and confidence.

Leveraging research while staying in tune to the needs of our students, we encouraged staff to work with students to support sturdiness, durability and anti-fragility.

"I believe that we are the only school who is working to help students directly understand that performing routine, habitual, daily organizational actions – being on time, organizing lockers, setting up schedules, doing homework, meeting deadlines, etc – is supportive of one's well-being," says Tony Costa, Vice-Principal, Student Support and Well-Being.

Other Key 2025-2026 Achievements:

- Partnered with external organizations and speakers for educational sessions focused on student well-being for students, staff and parents/guardians.
- Joined the Social Institute for use in the Grade 7/8 Adviser program. Key information known as "Huddles" were sent home to families to support conversations about online health, social media consumption, etc.
- Greenwood's Social Workers and Nurse led health-oriented lessons in Health & Physical Education and Adviser classes on topics such as caffeine consumption, teen gambling, energy drink consumption, and the importance of sleep.

Looking back on Venture Further Together 2021-2026

"We have been incredibly responsive, using research and trends to inform our initiatives. For example, we took the lead in the CIS in banning mobile devices in school. After that, many other schools followed. One school leader indicated to me at a conference last year that 'once Greenwood did it, it was easy for us to follow'." – Tony Costa

Looking ahead:

Our Social Workers and Nurse, in partnership with all staff, will connect with students to promote sturdiness and what that looks like at Greenwood. We will also invite our parent/guardian community to learn more about our well-being approach and its benefits, and continue to create opportunities for community-building and belonging – all important aspects of well-being.

Creating a Diverse, Equitable and Inclusive Community

We expanded our work in Pluralism throughout the 2025-2026 school year. We continued to illustrate what Pluralism means at Greenwood and how this ethic that values diversity within a society strengthens our community

Pluralism means recognizing and valuing differences such as identity, beliefs or politics. Differences are not seen as threatening; instead, these are opportunities to learn from one another, enriching our community with new perspectives and ideas. Everyone belongs.

Through a pluralistic lens, our community focuses on all forms of diversity (visible, invisible and thought diversity), listening to each other in order to develop an inclusive mindset and foster belonging.

In the fall 2025 and spring 2026, we welcomed Irshad Manji, CEO of Moral Courage, to facilitate sessions about discussing polarizing topics productively and having conversations with empathy and curiosity. Staff, students, parents/guardians, alumni and board members were invited to participate. Read more about Irshad's work at Greenwood here.

Other Key 2025-2026 Achievements:

- Measured our pluralism work using the Pluralism Benchmarks established based on the Global Centre for Pluralism's work and RIDES (Reimagining Integration: Diverse and Equitable Schools).
- Created the Coordinator, Pluralism role. The coordinator works with the Executive Director, Greenwood Centre for Teaching, Learning and Research, and the Director, Academics and Pluralism on our Pluralism programming for Staff, Students and Parents/Guardians.
- A new session "Diversity and Belonging at Greenwood" was developed for prospective families with a focus on visible diversity.
- Began third-party collection of demographic data from applicant families to measure who is currently considering Greenwood, who is joining us, and where we have room for growth.

Looking back on Venture Further Together 2021-2026

"I am proud of the ways we have responded to our community to value and support individuals, valuing each student's perspectives and identities. We have established parent/guardian learning communities, student Affinity Groups and student Alliances that have been well-attended and well-received." – Mary Gauthier, Executive Director, Centre for Teaching, Learning and Research

Looking ahead:

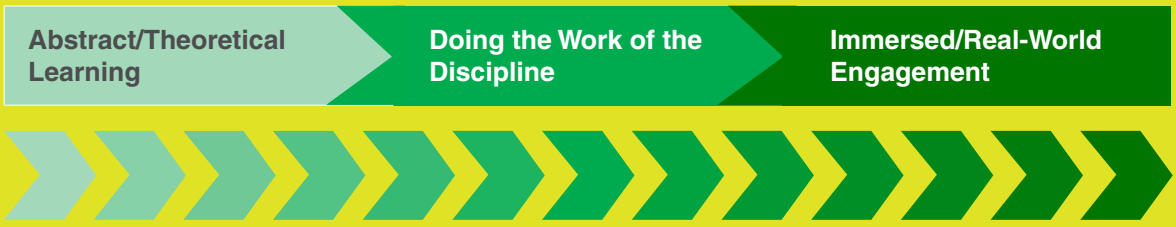

Our 2026-2027 goal is to champion our Pluralistic values, ensuring that our programming and practices reflect the Greenwood ethos: that our differences are our greatest learning opportunities and that here, everyone belongs.

Inspiring Discovery Through Personalized, Experiential Learning

At Greenwood, experiential learning is about more than field trips. Instead, it's about making daily lessons and learning experiential, practical and relevant. We call this "doing the work of the discipline" and our teachers continually adapt their courses in order to provide daily opportunities to do this.

The learning spectrum:

For example, in a business course, this would look like:

- Abstract/Theoretical Learning

  Learn to calculate and interpret financial ratios that assist with case analysis and decision making.

- Doing the Work of the Discipline

  Take on the role of a business executive and work to solve a problem facing a real-world business.

- Immersed/Real-World Engagement

  Share case solution with someone from the business to receive feedback, consider feasibility and engage in discussion.

"Students were provided with many classroom-connected learning opportunities. External experts like our writer in residence provided feedback to students to help them improve their writing. And, classes connected with the community through partnerships with Davisville Public School (DPS). For example, Technology students designed a game/toy for students at DPS and English students wrote a storybook for a particular audience," says Elanna Robson, Vice-Principal, Student Learning. "We are also improving the connection between external experiences and learning in the classroom. For example, students complete prep prior to a field trip and, after the trip, teachers follow up to ensure students make explicit connections between the trip and the course content."

Other Key 2025-2026 Achievements:

- Implemented a new course that has field work involved (Healthy Active Living - Outdoor Education).
- Surveyed parents/guardians to gauge interest in exchanges, international travel and other experiential overnight trips.
- Students led work to ensure our connection with EcoSchools was maintained.

"I'm proud of our staff and the many (hundreds!) of great ideas they have to make learning experiential and personalized in such a wide variety of ways. We had well over 80 course-connected field trips last year alone, not including the many in-school opportunities, guest speakers, workshops, activities, and more, as well as larger experiential opportunities like the Arts/Experiential Day and Case Competitions."
– Sam Clark, Vice-Principal, Programs & Risk Management

Looking back on Venture Further Together 2021-2026

"We have leaned into personalized, experiential learning to provide countless opportunities for our students over these years. From Outdoor Education to in-class experts to amazing community partnerships, we provide students with memorable and engaging experiences they remember far beyond their years at Greenwood."
– Elanna Robson

"Our Outdoor Education model is a real strength. It's already fairly unique in its scope, with the whole school out twice a year by grade, and it has allowed us to stay true to our OE roots while also looking for meaningful ways to make course connections on trips. Having an entire grade, along with many of their teachers, together for a week creates some pretty unique opportunities for connection-making. The Grade 8 Quebec City trip is a great example: students on this trip get a strong OE experience while also making tangible connections to their social studies and French courses." – Sam Clark

Looking ahead:

We will further integrate the philosophy of "doing the work of the discipline" into our classrooms. We will embed more course-related activities into some OE trips. And, we will continue to look for more ways to create transformational experiences for students both inside and outside the classroom.

Leading in Technology Integration

Greenwood's forward-thinking, innovative approach to teaching can be seen in our approach to AI. This year we further capitalized on AI as a tool to enhance learning, while at the same time using it with purpose to teach students critical thinking skills. This purposeful approach is aligned to the "smart" in smart-use-of-tech.

Our three-prong approach to the use of AI in our classrooms was developed in-house by Elanna Robson, Ryan Vachon & the AI Working Group. The three prongs are:

1. Teach students how to use AI appropriately and effectively as a tool.
2. Support students to develop durable, future-ready skills.
3. Use AI to improve teaching and learning.

"I'm proud of Greenwood's approach to AI. We have seen others either go headlong into AI or, more often, simply try to prevent students from using it. We are using it as a tool for teaching. And, we are being intentional about when not to use it." – Heather Thomas, Principal, Head of School

Other Key 2025-2026 Achievements:

- AI continues to be integrated into the classroom with a focus on skill building and appropriate use. Areas of focus have been: building durable future-ready skills by ensuring students are not downloading critical thinking to AI tools, teaching students how to effectively use AI, and using AI to improve teaching. Specific tools most utilized include: Brisk, Brisk Boost, Gemini, Gems, Perplexity, Diffit and Exam.net
- Operations staff were provided with professional development in using AI to increase efficiency in their work.
- Our teachers continue to adapt assessments and the evaluation of student learning with AI in mind.

Highlights from Venture Further Together 2021-2026

Greenwood is mobile-device free during school hours.

"Greenwood teachers are incredible. They readily try out new technology to see if it might improve student learning. And, they are eager to learn new things and share what is working with their peers. They are always looking for ways to continue to grow and develop their practice in order to improve the student learning experience. The Coordinators, Learning Technology have been a tremendous resource to teachers, creating personalized opportunities for teachers to upskill their technology use with student learning improvement as the goal of their work." – Heather Thomas, Principal, Head of School

Develop a Bold Masterplan to Develop the Campus on the Future

Our campus masterplanning during the Venture Further Together strategic plan was dominated largely by our push for a new outdoor space on the Greenwood campus.

While we had access to June Rowlands Park and wonderful partnerships for practice and playing fields in the city, the desire to give our Greenwood community access to much-needed recreation space fueled our work.

Navigating the pandemic and construction delays, the Greenspace project took longer than initially anticipated – but the day has come!

We are incredibly grateful for the Campus Development Committee members, Greenwood staff, partners and donors who helped to make this development happen.

Our students and staff are keen to access the new outdoor space for breaks, subject classes, health & physical education classes, as well as practices for many of our Athletics Teams.

Your Support For Greenwood College School In 2025-2026

Our community's generosity allows Greenwood to continually model what education can be, supporting key initiatives beyond what tuition alone can cover. Your gifts ensure we can flexibly adapt and protect the Greenwood Approach, addressing urgent needs and emerging opportunities in real time. During the 2025-2026 school year, your support directly enriched the student experience through the initiatives highlighted below. Thank you for helping us ensure that every student is seen, known, and championed.

GREENWOOD FUND: The Greenwood Fund supports the school's greatest areas of need, as determined by the Principal. Funds are strategically allotted in ways that resonate with the Greenwood community while supporting priority projects. During the 2025-2026 school year, the Greenwood Fund supported a wide variety of arts, athletics and experiential opportunities for students.

ARTS: Our donors generously supported the arts this past year, including providing funding for a new theatre short-throw laser projector; new drafting tables for our visual arts program; high-quality percussion instruments for our music department and so much more.

ATHLETICS: This year, because of your generosity, we were able to purchase Greenwood-branded athletics chairs, bringing school spirit, professionalism and comfort to our sport sidelines.

ACADEMICS: Thanks to our donors, student makers in our new "World of Fashion" course now work with professional sewing machines. Donor funding also brought advanced air filtration and thermal control to our Innovation Lab, creating a state-of-the art environment as students bring their ideas to life on the laser printers. Additionally, gifts welcomed industry partners directly into our classes and competitions, and supported the implementation of platforms like exam.net during student assessments.

INCLUSION, BELONGING & PLURALISM and HEALTH & WELL-BEING: In 2025-2026, donors funded specialized workshops with ConnectEd, an initiative that equips our teachers to navigate complex topics with care. These sessions help our educators guide students in building essential tools for courageous, respectful dialogue. Contributions also supported our device-free environment by introducing print newspapers to the Lodge and expanding student co-curricular activities. Through new offerings like the Fishing Club, your generosity ensures our students build genuine connections and remain deeply engaged with one another every day.

TEACHER EXCELLENCE (PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR STAFF): Through the Greenwood Fund, we were able to support several high-impact training opportunities for staff this year, including specialized coursework in special education. Thirteen teachers completed additional qualifications through a three-part program, with four completing Part 1, five completing Part 2, and four earning their Specialist qualification. Eleven of these educators work in the Student Success Centre, providing an immediate and positive impact for Greenwood students with learning differences. Thanks to these efforts, our school community now includes 42 teachers with Special Education Part 1, 19 with Part 2, and 10 with their Specialist designation, six of whom work in the Student Success Centre to support our learners every day.

Donor support also enabled meaningful workshops to broaden our educational approach and operational strength. Our team participated in sessions with Irshad Manji of Moral Courage to enhance our ability to listen, learn from others, and nurture these essential dialogue skills within our students. Additionally, operations staff engaged in professional development focused on leveraging artificial intelligence to increase efficiency and streamline workflow, while teachers explored the thoughtful and effective integration of artificial intelligence into the classroom. To further support academic growth, professors Dr. Steve Engels and Dr. Naomi Hamer visited Greenwood to lead a workshop on preparing students for postsecondary education, focusing on communication skill development and artificial intelligence.

GREENSPACE: Your generosity and patience throughout construction brought this moment to life. By investing in the Greenspace, you directly supported the physical and mental well-being of our students. Every play on this field, lesson under the sun, and memory made here reflects your support. Thank you for believing in this project and helping turn this dream into a reality.

Your Support For Greenwood College School Foundation

The Greenwood College School Foundation is a separately incorporated body that manages and oversees endowment funds established through your philanthropic giving to support Greenwood College School. During the 2025-2026 academic year, $326,327 was disbursed from the Foundation to support key priority areas of the school, including:

STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE: Greenwood believes a transformative education should be defined by a student's curiosity and character, never by their financial circumstances. Today, rising economic complexities mean more qualified families require financial assistance to join or remain in our community. In 2025-2026, we were able to fund a total of $230,290 for partial tuition for 11 students in Grades 7-12 through Financial Assistance. This includes $45,753 that was deferred from the 2024-2025 school year. Thanks to the generosity of our donor community, we can say yes to exceptional students who are ready to contribute to our classrooms right now.

GENERAL ENDOWMENT FUND: The General Endowment Fund directly supported student learning, technology-rich resources, and well-being. In 2025-2026, we were able to fund $79,887 across multiple school priorities, including classroom-connected experiential learning opportunities that brought course concepts to life in tangible ways and specialized applications to enhance student learning (e.g., exam.net, SoundTrap music software, and Google Workspace tools such as Gemini and Google Assignments). To champion both creative expression and physical well-being, endowment funds were also used for camera equipment in our film and photography programs alongside additional Fitness Room equipment. Finally, we funded Mental Health First Aid certification for 10 staff members, ensuring our team remains fully prepared to care for and support every student every day.

- EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING: Through endowment funding, we can provide a lasting foundation for rich, hands-on education at Greenwood. In 2025-2026, $27,414 in funding directly supported classroom-connected experiential learning opportunities that brought course concepts to life and enabled students to do authentic work of the discipline. Donor support for endowments enabled dynamic field trips and meaningful partnerships with visiting experts. Local visual artists and musicians, for example, facilitated hands-on workshops and offered personal feedback on student creative work. By championing these endowment funds, our donors ensure that every student continues to benefit from vibrant, real-world learning that sparks curiosity and deepens understanding for years to come.

- STUDENT SUCCESS CENTRE: In 2025-2026, the Greenwood College School Foundation invested $18,586 to support an Apprentice Teacher to work in the Student Success Centre. This Apprentice Teacher participated in learning strategies classes and provided targeted support for students' learning and executive functioning. Because of your commitment to supporting our endowment funds, our students received the personalized guidance they need to flourish, ensuring every learner is truly seen, known, and championed.
- CENTRE FOR TEACHING, LEARNING AND RESEARCH: In 2025-2026, the Foundation contributed $11,781 to the school to assist in funding essential professional development opportunities for our community. Your generosity enabled vital partnerships with ConnectEd and Irshad Manji of Moral Courage, equipping our staff, students, and families with tools for social media education and productive dialogue on divisive topics. Because of your commitment, our community continues to cultivate open minds, deep listening, and respectful conversation across every generation.
- OUTDOOR EDUCATION: Endowment funding of $2,639 in 2025-2026 ensured our Grade 8 students had dedicated, high-quality care during their Fall Outdoor Education trip. Through your support of our general endowment fund, Greenwood brought an on-site nurse on board for the week, providing specialized health support and peace of mind while students learned and grew in the outdoors.
- TEACHER EXCELLENCE: In 2025-2026, six of our teachers participated in specialized professional development focused on thoughtfully integrating artificial intelligence into the classroom. Through endowment funding support of $1,483, these educators are bringing innovative strategies directly to their students and colleagues, enriching learning and sparking curiosity across disciplines. Thank you for continuing to invest in our teachers and ensuring Greenwood continues to offer an adaptive, forward-looking education.
